Themes: Advocacy

Aimed at: LGBTQ+

Galop works directly with thousands of LGBTQ+ people who have experienced abuse and violence every year. We specialise in supporting victims and survivors of domestic abuse, sexual violence, hate crime, and other forms of abuse including honour-based abuse, forced marriage, and so-called conversion therapies. We are a service run by LGBTQ+ people, for LGBTQ+ people, and the needs of our community are at the centre of what we do.

We run two national support helplines: one for LGBTQ+ victims and survivors of domestic abuse, and the other for LGBTQ+ people who have experienced hate crime. We provide advocacy services, both in London and nationally, for LGBTQ+ victims who need longer-term support. We are person-centred, empowerment-based, and trauma-informed – meaning our focus is always on helping our clients decide what is best for them, and then supporting them through their journey.

We use what we learn through working on the frontlines with clients to work on national and local policy change, to improve outcomes for LGBTQ+ victims and survivors of abuse and violence. We build evidence through key pieces of research around LGBTQ+ people's experiences of abuse and violence. We push for legislative change, improved statutory guidance for victims, and better understanding of the needs of LGBTQ+ people around the country.
