The Key Voice

Would you or your young person like to be involved in shaping this new service? It is so important that parents, carers and young people have a voice in services that affect them and are able to feedback and evaluate these services.

We would also like to involve you in the planning of our main conference which will take place on Saturday 13 May 2023— If you would be interested in finding out more please email keyworkingservice@nottsc.gov.uk.

Would an evening get together be helpful for those who are unable to come during the day?

Would you like this to be over Zoom or in person?

Please let us know your thoughts so we can plan the right time and the right place.
