OVERVIEW

The Julia and Hans Rausing Trust has committed £3m to fund voluntary and community groups that do not currently offer the DofE to launch their own DofE programmes, so that more young people than ever have the opportunity to benefit from the DofE.

Voluntary and community organisations can access up to £10,250 of grant funding, combined with support from our operations teams to setup, launch and deliver their DoE programme.

What is DofE?

- A life-changing experience. A fun time with friends. An opportunity to discover new interests and talents. A tool to develop essential skills for life and work. A recognised mark of achievement; respected by employers.
- 14-24 year-olds can do a DofE programme at one of three progressive levels which, when successfully completed, leads to a Bronze, Silver or Gold Duke of Edinburgh's Award.
- There are four sections to complete at Bronze and Silver level and five at Gold. They involve helping the community/environment, becoming fitter, developing new skills, planning, training for and completing an expedition and, for Gold only, working with a team on a residential activity.
- Any young person can do their DofE – regardless of ability, gender, background or location. Achieving an Award isn't a competition or about being first. It's all about setting personal challenges and pushing personal boundaries.

Why should we offer DofE?

- Young people develop a whole range of skills and attributes such as resilience, confidence, commitment, drive, self-awareness, empathy, team working and problem solving, which support them in navigating life.
- Achieving a respected Award that's recognised throughout the world, improves young people's future opportunities, prospects, and opens doors to jobs.
- When doing their DofE young people interact with peers on a level playing field; any young person of any ability, can start their DofE programme.

APPLICANT CRITERIA

“ Anyone and everyone can really enjoy DofE. A shy person will learn how to work with other people. It’s a learning process going through DofE, you learn from each other, you learn about life and it opens your eyes about little things that you should know but that you don’t know. It’s a good thing to do.”

- 2 The partner organisation will commit to supporting their young people through the programme.
- 3 The partner organisation will adhere to the terms and conditions included in the Grant Funding Guide provided by the DofE.

Monitoring YOUR PROJECT

Funded organisations will be required to complete an annual report evidencing your financial spend and demonstrating the impact of your project based on the following themes:

Opportunity: How the funding enabled the removal of barriers to the DofE and opportunities for more marginalised young people to take part.

Innovation: Tell us about how you were able to take new and novel approaches to entrenched problems. Please tell us about any challenges or learning to arise.

Resilience: How the project has supported the young people you work with to become more resilient in the face of multiple challenges.

Sustainability: Tell us about how the funding will enable you to continue to offer the DofE to your young people.

Once you have completed an annual report, this will trigger the payment of each subsequent year of grant that has been applied for.

How do we apply for funding?

Voluntary and community organisations can fill in an expression of interest form and apply by completing the grant application process with support from a designated Operations Officer.
